Order Issued on	: 19 July 2019
Reasons Issued on	: 19 August 2019

REASONS FOR DECISION

Approval

- [1] On 19 July 2019, the Competition Tribunal ("Tribunal") conditionally approved the proposed transaction between WBHO Construction (Pty) Ltd and Trencon Construction (Pty) Ltd.
- [2] The reasons for the approval follow.

Parties to the transaction

Primary Acquiring Firm

- [3] The primary acquiring firm is WBHO Construction (Pty) Ltd (“WBHO”), a company duly incorporated in accordance with the laws of the Republic of South Africa. WBHO is a wholly owned subsidiary of Wilson Bayly Holmes-Ovcon Limited (“WBHO Group”), which is a public company listed on the Johannesburg Stock Exchange. Its shares are widely held, and it is not directly or indirectly controlled by any single entity.
- [4] WBHO is a large construction company with a broad spectrum of expertise in respect of all sectors of the construction industry. WBHO controls a number of companies in South Africa and around Africa. WBHO mainly operates through the following divisions:
- a. Building and Construction – WBHO is involved in the building of inter alia office and commercial buildings, hospitals, shopping centres, residential developments and golf estates, hotels and resorts, casinos and stadiums.
 - b. Roads and Earthworks – WBHO provides large-scale public and private projects across various infrastructural applications such as inter alia road construction and rehabilitation, bridges and structures, freeways and airports, harbours and railways.
 - c. Civil Engineering – WBHO provides civil engineering services in a number of sectors including mining, energy, water, and effluent treatment and silos and towers.

Primary Target Firm

- [5] The primary target firm is Trencon Construction (Pty) Ltd ("Trencon"). Trencon is wholly owned by Mr. Amarnath Singh and does not directly or indirectly control any firm. The majority of Trencon's directors are Indian individuals.
- [6] Trencon is a diversified construction company with experience in traditional building and civils contracts, as well as concession projects. Trencon concentrates on building construction (residential and non-residential) and conducts civil engineering works, sans road works.

Proposed transaction and rationale

- [7] The current transaction stems from a previous large merger wherein WBHO formed an economic alliance with Fikile Construction (Pty) Ltd ("Fikile"), Motheo Construction Group (Pty) Ltd ("Motheo"), and Edwin Construction (Pty) Ltd ("Edwin") – collectively referred to as the Emerging Contractors.¹ The Emerging Contractors are all smaller construction companies that are more than 51% owned and controlled by historically disadvantaged persons ("HDPs").
- [8] The Alliance is the result of a settlement agreement concluded between a number of Construction Companies² and the Government of the Republic of South Africa (as represented by the Ministers of Rural Development and Land Reform, Economic Development, Public Works and Transport) on 11 October 2016 ("the Settlement Agreement").
- [9] The current transaction entails the replacement of Fikile Construction Pty Ltd ("Fikile") with Trencon as an Emerging Contractor within the WBHO Alliance. The merging parties submitted that it was intended that post-merger, the merging parties will operate as a single economic entity (i.e. the WBHO Alliance).

- [10] Regarding rationale, WBHO submitted that the merger is intended to fulfil its obligations in terms of the Settlement Agreement as a result of Fikile's exit from the WBHO Alliance.
- [11] WBHO submitted that its views, and that of the Fikile's management regarding Fikile's business requirements were no longer aligned. The parties mutually agreed to terminate Fikile's participation as an Emerging Contractor under the Settlement Agreement and consequently as a member of the WBHO Alliance.
- [12] The Commission engaged Fikile's management to obtain a full account of the events which led to the decision by WBHO and Fikile to terminate their agreement. In this regard, Fikile duly corroborated WBHO's submission.³

Relevant market and impact on competition

- [13] The Commission identified horizontal overlaps in the following markets:
 - a. The provision of services for civil engineering: other;
 - b. The provision of services for general building: residential; and
 - c. The provision of services for general building: non-residential.
- [14] In the initial assessment of the WBHO Alliance, the Commission had relied on data from Statistics South Africa as well as from the merging parties' competitors for the market share information. In the current transaction, the Commission relies on the merging parties' estimates which were based on data from Statistics South Africa, the Construction Industry Development Board ("CIBD"), the South African Reserve Bank, as well as the South African Forum of Civil Engineering Contractors ("SAFCEC").

³ Please see page 487-489 of the merger record.

- [15] The Commission considered the merging parties estimates and found no reason to question the merging parties estimates as the proposed transaction arises less than two years since the Commissions initial investigation.
- [16] The average combined market share of the merged entity will be low, falling below 10% in each relevant market. Furthermore, the market share accretion resulting from the proposed transaction is insignificant. The Commission also identified a number of prominent rivals in the relevant markets such as Aveng, and Murray & Roberts. The Commission concludes that the merged entity is unlikely to exercise market power given the presence of several viable alternatives who will be able to discipline the merged entity.
- [17] Further, the Commission identified a vertical overlap, in so far as WBHO manufactures/produces mesh and rebar ("upstream products") which are purchased by Trencon and its competitors in the downstream market for the provision of general building (non-residential) and general building (residential) services.
- [18] However, Trencon's procurement of mesh and rebar from all suppliers equates to 5.6% of WBHO's total sales of mesh and rebar and WBHO is just one of many manufacturers of these products in the market.⁴ Therefore the Commission found there is no likelihood of foreclosure as a result of the proposed transaction.

Public interest

- [19] The merging parties submitted that no retrenchments will occur as a result of the proposed transaction. The Commission is of the view that the proposed transaction is unlikely to negatively affect employment as the businesses of the merging parties will not be integrated post-transaction. There will be no employee rationalisations or duplications as a result of the proposed transaction.

⁴ These include companies such as Allied Mesh and Fitters, Biflex wire products, GKD Group South Africa, IPM Steel and Merco Industries, amongst others.

- [20] In addition, the merging parties submitted that in line with section 12A(3)(c) the proposed transactions result in public interest benefits as it enables the Emerging Contractors (in their capacity as BEE and Historically Disadvantaged firms) to become competitive. The merging parties outline the following benefits:
- a. It will improve the development of skills among HDPs in critical areas in the industry;
 - b. It encourages participation and ownership of SMEs and enterprises managed and owned by HDPs; and
 - c. It provides for demonstrable and measurable expansion opportunities in the construction industry which promotes competition, innovation and growth in the market.
- [21] The Commission agreed and found that the proposed transaction raises strong public interest benefits in terms of the Act. The WBHO Alliance ensures that small black-owned construction companies are able to scale their businesses and hopefully, one day, be able to compete directly with firms such as WBHO.
- [22] The Commission was of the view that it is necessary to monitor the performance of the WBHO Alliance in their attainment of these public interest benefits. The Commission therefore required the merging parties to provide a report to the Commission on all the projects the merging parties would have participated in as part of the WBHO Alliance. The merging parties must submit reports annually detailing the projects they have worked on during the joint venture. Further, they must provide a report upon termination of the alliance.
- [23] The WBHO Alliance therefore presents a tangible opportunity for Trencon to be developed into a large, competitive firm in line with the objectives of section 12A(3)(c) of the Act.

Conclusion

- [24] In light of the above, we concluded that the proposed transaction is unlikely to substantially prevent or lessen competition in any relevant market. Accordingly, we approved the proposed transaction subject to conditions. For convenience the set of conditions are attached, marked as “Annexure A”.

2. Recordal

- 2.1 On 04 March 2019, the Competition Commission ("Commission") received notice of a large merger whereby WBHO intends to form an economic alliance with Trencon. Trencon is 100% owned, managed and controlled by Historically Disadvantaged Persons.
- 2.2 Emerging Contractors are smaller construction companies that are owned and controlled by Historically Disadvantaged Persons. WBHO had initially selected 3 (three) Emerging Contractors with whom it intended to form the WBHO Alliance, being Edwin, Motheo and Fikile. This was approved by the Tribunal in the 2018 Merger Decision. WBHO and Fikile subsequently agreed to terminate their agreement such that, at the date of this merger notification, WBHO had only 2 (two) Emerging Contractors. In terms of the proposed transaction, Trencon will be introduced to the WBHO Alliance as a third Emerging Contractor with Motheo and Edwin.
- 2.3 In light of the fact that the 2018 Merger Decision was approved subject to the 2018 Merger Conditions, the Commission recommends that the proposed transaction be approved subject to the same conditions, mutatis mutandis.

2.4 Recognising that the Conditions specified below are substantially the same as those contained in the 2018 Merger Conditions, it is noted that compliance by the WBHO Alliance with any obligation in the 2018 Merger Conditions shall constitute compliance with that same obligation as contained in these Conditions, and vice versa, save for any difference in compliance necessitate by these Conditions, for example as regards Trencon.

2.5 The Commission recommends that the Merger be approved subject to the Conditions set out below.
